

CHATELHERAULT

venue of distinction

Chatelherault Country Park

Chatelherault Country Park, a five star visitor attraction under the VisitScotland grading scheme, was once described as a Jewel in the Landscape. Chatelherault was built in 1732 as the hunting lodge and summer house for the Dukes of Hamilton. Designed by the famous Scottish Architect William Adam, whose son later designed Culzean Castle, Chatelherault now serves as the magnificent gateway to the Country Park. The restored buildings house the visitor centre, exhibition gallery, displays, gift shop, cafe and reception desk.

Visitors can view the Duke's private Banqueting Room and apartments and the formal gardens. In addition, Chatelherault serves as one of the country's most prestigious venues for weddings, functions and conferences. Outside, visitors can ramble through 10 miles of walks along the scenic River Avon and through ancient woodland.

five star quality

Our experienced catering team will be pleased to assist in arranging food and drink to suit your requirements – everything from toast drinks to a celebration lunch, buffet or dinner. Toast drinks can be served while photography is ongoing, allowing your guests to relax and mingle after your ceremony.

Parterre Gardens

The high ceilings and tall Venetian windows accentuate the graceful proportions of the rooms with the additional bonus of spectacular views across the Clyde Valley, over to the Campsie Hills and Ben Lomond.

The rear Venetian windows open out into the Parterre Gardens, which are an outstanding backdrop for photography.

Civil marriages

We are proud of our reputation at Chatelherault and would welcome the opportunity to meet with you to answer your questions, listen to your requirements and give a personal guided tour of the buildings.

Chatelherault has a licence to perform civil marriage ceremonies and we can arrange this in conjunction with the Council's registration office. To ensure the personal touch and exclusive use for your wedding party, there is only one ceremony available each Friday and Saturday, please contact us for times and availability.

We also welcome any type of marriage ceremony, performed by your nominated celebrant.

The Wedding Collection

In addition to holding your special day at Chatelherault, we also offer an exclusive range of accessories all showing images of the building and gardens.

There are also handmade photography albums and guest books, incorporated with your chosen design, which will give you a truly special and unique celebration package. The Wedding Collection is on view within the Visitor Centre and each item in our collection can be adapted to suit your personal requirements.

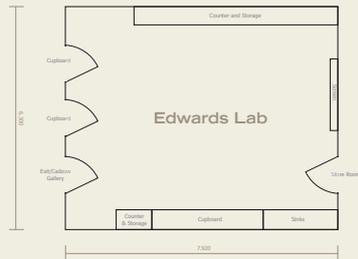

We also have an exclusive range of Chatelherault engraved quaichs, glassware and gifts for all members of the wedding party, everything from designer cuff links for the best man to jewellery for your bridesmaids.

Our team can also assist in suggesting some great ideas if you are looking for alternative unique gifts or mementos.
